

What is 3.11 Densho Road?

3.11 Densho Road refers to activities that use a network of disaster memorial facilities to conduct various initiatives and projects relating to disaster prevention, in order to learn the lessons of the Great East Japan Earthquake.

Many ruins and exhibition facilities in the areas affected by the Great East Japan Earthquake are available to learn the facts of the disaster and its lessons. The Disaster Memorial Network Council registered these facilities as "disaster memorial facilities" and aims to form a network by developing maps and guide signs. Using these facilities and this network as a foundation, it conducts various initiatives and projects related to disaster prevention, disaster mitigation, and learning from and preparing for tsunamis.

Through these activities, we hope to improve awareness of disaster prevention, promote communication with many people across regions and national borders, and to help form a disaster-resistant society and revitalize the region.
