It is our great honor to welcome you to the 63th Annual Meeting of the Japanese Society of Cerebral Blood Flow and Metabolism at Pacifico Yokohama, in November 13-14, 2020.

We promote basic, translational, and clinical researches on stroke, dementia, Parkinson's disease, ALS, brain tumor, hydrocephalus, and return novel knowledge and technique from bench to bedside. The main theme of the meeting is "Creating new evidences in Neuroscience." The special lectures will be given by Prof. Midori Yenari, Department of Neurology, UCSF, USA, Prof. Ulrich Dirnagl, Department of Experimental Neurology, Charité Universitätsmedizin Berlin, Germany, and Prof. Hideyuki Okano, Department of Physiology, Keio University, Japan. We are planning two joint symposia with Japanese society for Neuroendovascular Therapy, and with Japanese society for Neurochemistry. We believe this meeting would be providing the opportunity to communicate for the expert researchers, and to understand recent advances in this field.

The venue is very convenient locating near Haneda airport in Tokyo. We are expecting many doctors and researchers on neurology, neurosurgery, radiology and basic neuroscience to attend the meeting. Especially, we encourage young researchers to present at the meeting. After the meeting, you can enjoy various delicious foods in Yokohama and exploring the historical town in Kamakura. We are looking forward to seeing you at Brain Japan 2020 in Yokohama!

Researchers for Brain Science, Pharmacology, Physiology, Anatomy, Psychology, Rehabilitation, Neurology, Neurosurgery, Radiology, Nuclear Medicine, and Companies' scientists are welcome!

WELCOME!

Medical doctors, basic scientists, and co-medicals are always welcome to join us!
